Boston Failed to Pick Al. Maul's Combination.

Washington Beat the Boston's in One of Those Games Gus Schmelz Tells Continued Stories About-Boston's Triple Play a Wonder-Hassamer's Home Run Hit Paralyzed "Williamsburg," and Won.

Standing of the Teams

Was Boston in it yesterday? Well, yes-for about three minutes in the first inning while Al. Maul was limber-

After that it took all their time and attention to guess what Maul was going to spring on them next, and they never struck the combination once.

And the Senators? Why, they opened a jack-pot right on Wilson's first deal, in which Joyce and Abbey started with two pairs, and Bill Hassamer found four aces, which naturally scooped the whole outfit, and piled up so many chips that Boston was never able to call or raise.

Washington played the kind of a game that Gus Schmeiz has been telling us about, and did it without any fuss-a snappy game, stealing bases, hitting the ball hard at the right time, and doing clean, sharp work in the field. Boston was outplayed in every point except number of hits, and, although the Beanenters got eight to our four, they couldn't "make 'em be good" when runs were needed. After the first inning it was a contest of pitchers, in which honors were about easy.

FOOLED THE BIG BATTERS. At Mant twirled one of his gilt-edged games, completely fooling the big batters when they tried to advance runners, and some Wilson proved himself a valuable He was well supported by Warner and the "W" battery will be heard from many times this season.

Although bit sharply in the first, and a ittle wild in the second the youngster kept his head and retired the Secutors in order for five straight imings thereafter.

The fielding culminated in a burst of pyrotechnics in the ainth inning, when with three Senators on bases and no one out. Wilson, Warner, and Tocker executed a triple play, that for suddenness and sharpness, has never been excelled in the history of the game, and is perhaps the only one in which a fly catch or a trapped ball did not figure. McGuire was on third, Cartwright on account and Crocks on first when Mail poked a little tuppensy grounder to the pitcher. Wilson passed it to Warner, forcing Mac; thence it traveled like a shot to Tocker, and Maul was dead to the Cartwright meanwhile had turned third and was making down the libe with 200 pounds of steam on. Back came the ball, and as the big captain tore up the dift in a desperate slide, Warner tagged him, and the side was out. THEY WERE ELECTROCUTED.

It was like death by electricity, and the ball went back and forth as if it had voltage of 2,000. Every man on the home team, except Abbey, had chances and accepted them in good shape. Selbach, Crooks and Nicholson had most Selbach, Crooks and Nicholson had most opportunities, and they showed up strougly. Selbach and Duffy ran a neck and neck for catches, the left field winning under the wire by taking a long fly from Nash, the list man out. A catch of Selbach's close to the ground on the run in the fifth was a beauty.

In the third inning Crooks made a fine running catch off McCarthy in deep right, and Jack was also in two sharp double plays. Nicholson showed what he could do plays. Nicholson showed what he could do by taking everything that came his way. Duffy captured a fly from Hussamer in the eighth when two men were on bases that was billed for the center field fence and good for two runs. McCarthy, after a bruising run, nailed a fool from McGaure close to the fence and fell headlong, batclung to the ball.

HE MADE TWO ASSISTS. Some of the best work on both sides was done at first. Tucker made two assists to held onto a wisked liner from Crooks about six inches above the ground.

After Nicholson had sent up a foul in the first inning, which Warner captured, Joyce dispatched a daisy-cutter over first which gave him two bases, and made a daring run to third when Buffy took in Abbey's fly.

Selbach hit his favorite bull's eye on the right fence for two bases and Joyce scored. Then Hassamer ambled up and was presented with a bunch of roses. The grand stand groaned in dread of the usual result, but all the denizens of "Billsville" rose as one man and shouted to their pet to "let 'er go." Then William just dropped that ball right into the midst of his constituents beyond the wire fence and trotted gracefully around the bases. McGuire could only put up a fly for Nash, but the three runslooked well as a starter. DIED AT FIRST.

Boston began very gaily. Lowe hit weakly to Mauly and died at first. Then Long poked the ball just out of reach of Crooks. Duffy's grounder was too hot for Joyce, and when McCarthy's hit scampered past short Long scored the first and last run for Boston. The next two men went out on easy chances and only one Bostonian reached second during the remainder of the game. Nash led off with base hits in the second, fourth and seventh imnings but was left once and doubled up twice outlits by Warner to short and second. Wilson gave Cartwright a free ticket to "Ace" Warner is a good man, but Has-samer held four of a kind. Tucker was not so sharp as usual when be ran up on Crooks in the fourth and al-lowed himself to be touched. A little delay would have prevented the double play.

Umpire Lynch sent in his peremptory resignation to Mr. Young yesterday afternoon, and it was accepted with regret, and W. H. Long, of Cambridge, Mass., appointed to the vacancy.

Mr. Lynch seems to have been underly disturbed by the vaporings of the New York reporters, and the wild-eyed telegrams of President Freedman for his removal from the Poto grounds.

Mr. Young refused to make any change, and when Lynch yesterday wired for a vindication Mr. Y. replied that his retention in New York was an emphalic vindication. Nevertheless Lynch immediately sent his resignation, with the result as stated. his resignation, with the result as stated. This is a most unfortunate occurrence for This is a most unfortunate occurrence for the game. Lyuch is one of the most honest and fearliess of umpires, and if his first attempt at enforcing the new rules against obstreperous captains is to be met by such storms of abuse from blind partisans that he is compelled to resign out of self-respect, it offers a poor outlook for the discipling of the coming mason.

ANOTHER LYNCH STORY.

Report That President Young Ordered Him Away-Brooklyn Wins. New York, April 23.-The New Yorks made a poor showing again to-day and the support given to German was discouraging from the start. As the result of the Davis fine and the large amount of discussion it evoked, President Young ordered Lynch away from New York after to-day's game, although he had been scheduled for ninegamenhere.

Lynch chose to resign rather thauto accept this dictum, holding that if the rules adopted by the Nantional League are not to

BILLY BOY AT LONG ODDS

Defeats the Prohibitive Payorite West Side in Fast Time.

Key West Helps the Talent Along-Tammany Hall Runs a Fast Five Furlongs According to the Official Timers.

It is admitted by pearly all race goers that the track at Alexander Island is one of the best three-quarter mile courses in the country and is very fast but when the management have the old broken down skates that race at the track running within two or three seconds of record time they ask a trusting public to believe too much. It doesn't make a whole lot of difference and advertises the track, but a buit should be called somewhere.

When they hung out the time in the third race at five furlongs as .59 1-4, they certainly could not have expected the public to swallow it without a murmur.

The eighteen bookies who went on suc ceeded in getting about even on the day. The surprise of the day occurred in the second race, when Billy Boy, a 50 to 1 shot, bent the odds-on favorite. West Side. Imp. Bones and A. O. H. ruled even favorites at 2 to 1 in the first event, with Devises having second call at sixes.

To a fairly good start Ham took Mable Post out in front and led by an open length clear to the last furlong, when he quit and A. O. H., coming strong, won as he pleased by three lengths.

In the next event By Jove was a favorite at first but soon gave way to Pat Woodcock who closed at 2 to 1. When the flag fell they all raced for the when the riag len they all raced for the near turn and By Jove succeeded in getting it. He was never casught and won at the end by an open length. Pat Woodcock was second, two lengths before C. O. D. Key West looked to be a pipe in the third race and was made a 2 to 5 first choice. He raced out in front to the last furlong where Blue Bird came fast and Parsons where like Bird came fast and Parson Bronston was an odds on favorite in the fast event. He took command at the fall of the fing, and racing in front all the way, won by an open length.

The Times Wants 10,000 NEW SUBSCRIBERS.

To get them it proposes to give away any one of the following list of books with a subscription for one month. This subscription is 35 cents. The book itself regularly retails at 50 cents, so you are killing two birds with one stone; in other words, you are getting the brightest paper in Washington and a standard work of fiction for less than half of what both of them are worth.

The Books

Are printed in large type upon good paper, cloth, imitation halfbound, full silt back, head bands, and fancy linings. The books in this series average 1½ inches in thickness, and it is by far the finest edition evergiven away. Retail price, 50 cents each.
